Vitamins and Minerals Explained

Daily Sales System

SLO Funnels

Break Even Point

The goal with an SLO funnel is just to break even, ideally within 7 days. For example: you pay $500 to send 50 people through your automated sales funnel that sells your $500 course. One person buys. Your ad costs are covered and you got 50 new leads for “free” essentially.

All Roads Lead to One

After you build your automated selling system, you should focus all of your energy on sending traffic to it. Everything you create on social media should connect in some way to your product or sales funnel. Don’t have multiple links in your bio. Send people to ONE place.

Money As Leverage

A self-liquidating offer funnel used money as leverage instead of time. The goal is to create a lead generation machine that runs on autopilot and “liquidates” your advertising costs.

2 Hours On 20%

Done Before Noon

If you spend 2-4 hours per day on the most important activities, you can out-produce almost everyone and at the same time work less than everyone. The goal: done working before noon every day. This is only possible if you’re extremely efficient with your time and energy and develop your ability to focus.

Automate, Delegate, Eliminate

The tasks that don’t move the needle much should be automated, delegated, or eliminated whenever possible so you can dedicate more time to the needle-moving activities.

Money Making Activities

Most people focus the vast majority of their time on “maintenance” activities rather than money-making activities. The first 2 hours of each day should be focused on the real needle-movers like content creation, product creation, copywriting, etc.

The Rule of One

One Year

jMaster selling one product on one channel for at least one year until you add complexity to your business.

One Product

© GT3 Nutrition · gt3pb.com · 1

The biggest mistake people make is diversifying too soon. You do not need more than one product until you're beyond 6 figures per year.

One Channel

You also do not need more than one social media platform to scale to 6 figures. Instead of being mediocre at a bunch of platforms, be great at one.

Identity

Remove Money Blocks

One major obstacle you'll likely encounter are your beliefs about money and how much is possible for you to make, how much you deserve or can charge, or what it means about you as a person. Realize money is an infinite resource that does not care about morality or your beliefs about it. Money is neutral, but it does operate according to certain 'laws' or principles. Make an effort to understand these principles. See the 7 Laws of Abundance mind map here.

Uncompromising Vision

Build a business that gives you what you want. Create a vision for your future and be uncompromising with that vision. Reverse engineer what it takes and work towards it. Don't get distracted by other so-called 'opportunities.'

Be It Before You See It

Ultimately, your success will come from who you are, not the tactics or strategies you use. All the strategies work. What matters is how you show up in the world and how you approach your work. Approach it like a professional, as if you were already the highly successful person you desire to be. Be it and then you'll see it manifest.

100 Clicks

Price Point

To maximize your income but also your freedom, your product should be priced between $200 and $2,000. At this price point, your sales can be largely automated without the need for things like sales calls, coaching calls, and big launches.

2% Conversion Rate

The average conversion rate for digital products priced between $200 and $2000 is approximately 2%. Meaning you'll make about 1 sales for every 50 leads.

50 Leads Per Day

So to make one sale per day, you'll need about 50 leads (or clicks) per day. If you're sending traffic to an opt-in page, you'll need at least 100 clicks per day to average 50 leads per day.

Owned Media

Reach At Will

Having an email list gives you the ability to reach people at will instead of being dependent on social algorithms. With the click of a button, you can reach thousands of people, whenever you want.

Your Own Social Platform

It's also a good idea to build a free community of some kind, which acts almost as your own social media platform. This is another way to reach people and also builds trust and connection with you, a key ingredient in making sales.

Reduce Dependencies

Once you have some traction, you want to reduce dependencies, meaning to not be dependent on any one platform in order to reach your audience. You should start building an email list as soon as possible so you can “own” your audience.

Differentiation

Superior Method

Why is your product superior to other solutions? Why should someone buy your product and not someone else’s? Your product should make the buyer’s life easier in some way. People want speed, ease, and convenience.

New Opportunity

Ideally, your product should be positioned as a “new opportunity” or a “fresh” approach to solving a common problem. Think about how you can position your product as superior to other solutions out there by making it faster, simpler, easier, or better in some way.

Unique Angle

To make a product that sells like crazy, it should be unique in some way, different from what anyone else is doing. What makes your product better? What makes it uniquely yours?
